August 5, 1876 in Cleveland, OH
Globe Theater drawing ???

1. Wilhelm Heygster vs. Ernst Tourneur in five falls of a “Graeco-Roman” match.

The July 31st rematch came about due to Tourneur “filing an injunction” to prevent Heygster from claiming the prize money from their first match. This match was postponed until August 5th due to Heygster and his agent being in jail. Heygster, Tourneur, and their agent were accused of having not paid for their room and board at their hotel. Tourneur was said to be out of town attending a picnic so was not arrested. The hotel management had waited several days to file charges because they were holding the $1,000 prize money for the match. When opening the package containing the money, they discovered it was filled with old German newspapers. The August 5th match likely didn’t happen as there’s no mention of the results and a newspaper article on the day before, noted that this group had pulled a similar scam recently in Pittsburgh.
